

International Trade and Marketing

EconS 453

Please see below for a brief overview of EconS 453. Instructors will provide a full Syllabus at the beginning of the course.

Course Overview:

Application of economic theory to the analysis of international trade and marketing.

Course Objectives and Student Learning Outcomes:

This class is intended to give students a framework under which to evaluate the pros and cons of international trade and trade policy. The class will cover the main theoretical models used in trade analysis, and some of their empirical applications.

Prerequisites:

EconS 301 and 311

WSU Academic Integrity Statement:

As an institution of higher education, Washington State University is committed to principles of truth and academic honesty. All members of the University community share the responsibility for maintaining and supporting these principles. When a student enrolls in Washington State University, the student assumes an obligation to pursue academic endeavors in a manner consistent with the standards of academic integrity adopted by the University. To maintain the academic integrity of the community, the University cannot tolerate acts of academic dishonesty including any forms of cheating, plagiarism, or fabrication. Washington State University reserves the right and the power to discipline or to exclude students who engage in academic dishonesty. Students found responsible for academic integrity violations may receive an F on the particular assignment or exam, as well as an F for the course. Serious and/or repeated offenses may result in referral to the conduct board and expulsion from WSU.

Health and Safety on Campus:

Washington State University is committed to maintaining a safe environment for its faculty, staff and students. Safety is the responsibility of every member of the campus community and individuals should know the appropriate actions to take when an emergency arises. In support of our commitment to the safety of the campus community the University has developed a Campus Safety Plan. It is highly recommended that you visit the websites below to become familiar with the information provided.

<http://safetyplan.wsu.edu>

<http://oem.wsu.edu/emergencies>

<http://alert.wsu.edu>

Access Center Accommodations:

Reasonable accommodations are available for students with a documented disability. If you have a disability and may need accommodations to fully participate in this class, please visit the Disability Resource Center (DRC). All accommodations MUST be approved through the DRC (Washington Building, Room 217). Please stop by or call 509-335-3417 to make an appointment with a disability specialist

<http://www.drc.wsu.edu>.